

Indigenous Governance and Politics Certificate

Cultivates an understanding and appreciation of the unique socio-political positions of Indigenous peoples throughout Canada as these relate to historical and contemporary issues in governance and politics.

CAREERS

A Certificate in Indigenous Governance and Politics will prepare you for careers in:

- Political and leadership roles in Indigenous governance
- Management and administration within Indigenous governments and organizations
- Policy evaluation and development
- Leadership and organizational roles in local, provincial and national government

This certificate requires 15 credit units of coursework. You may choose some courses from required areas of study to complete this certificate. Courses that work toward this certificate may also count as electives or other requirements for your degree program. Please check with an Academic Advisor in the Undergraduate Students Office, or with the Course and Program Catalogue, for the list of courses that will fulfill certificate requirements.

FEATURED COURSES

POLS 221.3: Global Indigenous Politics

POLS 222.3 Indigenous Governance and Politics

POLS 422.3 First Nations Governance

QUICK FACTS

- Full or part-time program
- Direct entry from high school
- Begin this program off-campus

UNIVERSITY OF SASKATCHEWAN
College of Arts and Science
ARTSANDSCIENCE.USASK.CA

For more information, visit admissions.usask.ca/indigenous-governance-politics.php